

Dear Colleagues,

We are happy to announce our new application deadlines for our Summer University and Master Program in International Relations and European Studies. Please let us know if you are interested and please forward the attachment to your friends and colleagues!

Thank you!

The Institute for Social and European Studies (ISES), Koszeg, Hungary.
www.european-studies.hu

12th Savaria International Summer University
CALL FOR APPLICATIONS
www.european-studies.hu

The Institute for Social and European Studies is happy to inform you about that the application is open for the 12th Savaria International Summer University entitled:

„THE METAMORPHOSIS OF EUROPE - ENLARGEMENT AND BEYOND” which will be held between 25. June and 06. July 2007, at Kőszeg, Hungary.

www.european-studies.hu

ISES is organizing the summer university since 1996. The topics are built around the following: recent issues of European Integration, Foreign Policy, Regional Policy, European Identity and tasks highlighted in the Lisbon Agenda.

Scholarships are available in LIMITED Numbers for the most needed and most outstanding applicants. Please contact our administration.

Application Deadlines:

18. June 2007. for applicants, who DO NOT need a visa to come to Hungary.

04. June 2007. for applicants, who NEED a visa to come to Hungary.

For more information about the program, application procedure, application form, scholarships, costs and more please see our invitation, contact our administration at maatkoszeg@gmail.com and visit our webpage (www.european-studies.hu) regularly.

MA Program in International Relations and European Studies CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

MA Program in International Relations and European Studies at the European University Institute (www.european-studies.hu) at Kőszeg, Hungary. The unique and advanced level program is 3 semesters with international professors, accredited through the Corvinus University of Budapest

Scholarships are available in LIMITED NUMBERS for the most needed and most outstanding applicants. Please contact our administration.

Application Deadline: 15. August 2007.

For more information please contact our administration at maatkoszeg@gmail.com and visit our webpage (www.european-studies.hu) regularly.

Contacts:

Kristof Boda – Europe House
9730. Kőszeg, Chernel u. 14. Hungary
Tel/Fax: +36-94-563-055
Link/webpage: www.european-studies.hu
E-mail: info@european-studies.hu

Masters Degree in International Relations and European Studies – Institute for Social and European Studies

ISES Foundation

14 Chernel St., 9730 Kőszeg, Hungary

Phone/fax: 00-36-94-563-055

Webpage: www.european-studies.hu

Email: postmaster@ises-koszeg.t-online.hu and info@european-studies.hu

When: Academic year starts in Fall, application deadline: 15. August 2007.

Costs: Euro 5400/academic year + Euro 400 Graduation Fee

Scholarships: ISES can offer scholarships in LIMITED NUMBERS only for the most needed and outstanding applicants.

ISES in collaboration with Budapest Corvinus University (the degree issuing institution) provides students with the opportunity to obtain theoretical and practical knowledge in the fields of international relations, economics, political science, history and sociology. ISES provides a variety of programs and services during the academic year which will make your stay in Hungary a rewarding and enriching experience. You will be part of an international student body of approximately 30 students and have the opportunity to meet outstanding professors from around the world. Credits are transferable to most universities.

Curriculum highlights: Courses in English include: The Role of New Europe in the EU; Foreign Policy of the EU; International Economic Organizations and Institutions; Change in the Theory and Practice of International Relations, Changing European Values, Philosophy, Psychology and Power; Comparative Study of Communism, Fascism, and Fundamentalism; Global Governance and Global Civil Society; History of European Integration; Security, Peace and Democratization in the Balkans. These courses are conducted by internationally known scholars like Philippe Schmitter, Elemér Hankiss, Mitja Zagar, Ferenc Miszlivetz, András Blahó, Tamás Szentes, Atila Eralp, Tibor Palankai, among others. Additional info about the duration of and tuition for the program, as well as Application Forms can be downloaded at: www.european-studies.hu.

Setting description: The program is based in the beautiful town of Kőszeg, in the western part of Hungary. Two semesters are required on campus for course work, plus a third semester elsewhere for the writing of the thesis. Students are accommodated in hostels and all necessary facilities (libraries, laundry, restaurants, swimming pool, track, etc.) are nearby. Research requirements are built into the program. Students can form groups to conduct research on a chosen topic. A total of 180 credits (includes the credit for the MA thesis) are required to complete the course. The area is famous for wine, gastronomy and wellness tourism. It also supports a variety of cultural activities in unspoiled natural surroundings. Students can reach Vienna, Budapest and Bratislava in 2-3 hours by car.

Program expenses: Tuition & materials, room & board, medical insurance, program-related field trips, travel to and from Kőszeg, application fee.

Where: Kőszeg, Hungary